

2007 SFF AUCTION PROGRAM ADDENDUM

PROFESSORS

122 Howdy Sailor!

Don't leave Michigan without sailing on the Great Lake of the same name. Join Captain Don Duquette on his Cape Dory 30, DONNA MARIE, for a day sail on Lake Michigan. Sailors will leave from Petoskey City Marina (about 250 miles north of Ann Arbor) and sail into Little Traverse Bay and the great Lake Michigan. Harbor Springs is a likely port of call, maybe for lunch. Bay Harbor is possible. Weather dependent. Must schedule between Memorial Day and Labor Day. Up to four crew; no experience required.

123 Verdict, Delicious

Do professors Edward Cooper and Grace Tonner give Emeril a run for his money? You and five friends will be the judge when they provide you with a home-cooked meal!

124 For The Wine Connoisseur, Part I

Impress someone special with a bottle of 1983 Chateau Lafite Rothschild Premier Grande Cru Classe. Donated by Professor Douglas Laycock, this Bordeaux comes from the legendary winery, widely recognized as the best in France for two centuries or more. Valued at $420, this is a bargain as well as an investment - a bottle of the 1789 edition is available online for $65,000!

125 Teed Off About The Bluebook?

Blow off some steam as you dine in style at the Polo Fields Golf and Country Club! Four students will choose either Sunday Brunch or Dinner at the Polo Fields Golf and Country Club with Professors Rachel Croskery-Roberts and Paul Falon. Leave those sweats at home, though - club attire required.

126 One-Of-A-Kind Necklace and Earring Set

You are bidding on a necklace and earring set that was designed and made by Professor Rachel Croskery-Roberts. The set was handcrafted using sterling silver beads and a sterling silver and mother of pearl pendant. Earrings are sterling silver. Professor Croskery-Roberts has been making jewelry for years, and she has never made the same design twice. Therefore, if you buy this set, you're guaranteed to be able to tell people that they can't find one exactly like this anywhere else.

127 What Says Ann Arbor Like...

...ZINGS! Career Services guru Susan Guindi will send the lucky winner a basket brimming with Zingerman's goodies for your snacking enjoyment. Wherever you are this summer, a taste of "the A" isn't far away.

128 Summer Starvation Fix

Summer income isn't quite what you hoped it would be? Put away the Ramen Noodles, because Career Services heroes Susan Guindi, Robin Kaplan and Carolyn Spencer will pay for you and a friend to enjoy dinner at a wonderful restaurant in the city where you spend your summer.

129 Cure For A Winter Chill

Stay toasty warm and brush up on your Latin with this handmade knit hat crafted by Professor Nicole Appleberry. The phrase "Fiat justitia ruat coelum" will be incorporated into the hat in braille. Take a look around and see if you can find it - this phrase is inscribed above a Hutchins Hall archway.

STUDENTS

221 Sing, Sing A Song

Stefan Atkinson (of Headnotes fame) and Siddharth Nag (both 1Ls) will employ their voices for a bedtime story reading and lullaby-ing. Can be done on an audio CD if lullabying in person is too creepy.

222 Veggie Delight

Morgan Stewart and Lauren Nakamura (both 1Ls) will cook a yummy vegetarian dinner of your choosing (including appetizer, main course and dessert) for four. Dinner can be at their home or yours.

223 Oy Vey, I'm Hungry!

Enjoy a traditional Friday night Sabbath dinner for up to six. Prepared by Adir Greenfeld (1L).

224 School Got You Stressed?

Relax with one hour of neck, shoulders, back and legs massage donated by 1L Robert Kim. Rob is class-taught in basic Swedish techniques but is not qualified for serious sports injuries or therapy

HOME ITEMS
